Hello you wonderful Koinonia Sponsors.

The Weekend is almost here. Since I am unable to come to the final team meeting, I thought I would finish up the Sponsorship Responsibilities Series now. Letters have been sent to your participants with the particulars for the weekend. Location, time, what to bring, etc. They will be contacted this week as a follow-up to the letter. When you are a sponsor, do everything you can to make your participants weekend as memorable, exciting and spiritually uplifting as God wants it to be

At this point, you should be collecting any final notes, cards or letters for your participants mail bag. Continue to keep Team and Participants in prayer. Keep in touch with your participant and make yourself available to them. You should probably call them next Wed. or Thursday and coordinate any last minute details.

After the Weekend, if possible, consider having an evening meal or a welcome home Banner ready for your participant when they get home. Call or text on Monday to wish them a Happy Fourth Day and see how they are doing.

Keep in close contact with your new Koinonian, showing love and support. Bring your New Koinonian to the first Ultreya after the weekend and boldly introduce them to people.

Bring or encourage them to join a prayer/share group or bible study. If they have a home church, to return to it and offer their services. Bring them to Ultreya's, Palanka Parties or other Koinonia events such as K-Kamp. Ask them if they would like to sponsor someone for the next weekend and if so, have them contact me. God Bless all you sponsors for growing the Kingdom of God.

Sincerely,

Diane Bridgewater
Sponsorship Director
